HAYDEN-WALKER. Wedding Announcements from Hartford Surprise Local Society.

Thursday morning announcements were received in this city of the marriage of Alderman Willard Whitton Hayden in Hartford, Wednesday, and Mrs. Ida May Walker of that city. The cards were simple announcements with no at home enclosure. Alderman Hayden has resided with his mother since the death of his father, in the Hayden mansion at the corner of Pleasant and Mountain streets. He is one of the largest real estate owners in the city and has taken an active part in civic affairs. For a number of years he has been spending winters in Hartford, where he has made the acquaintance of the lady who is now his bride. It is not known when Alderman and Mrs. Hayden will return from their honeymoon. It is stated that he has had a letter from his mother, who is with his mother fitted up and ready to take to his residence.

Watched the Eclipses. Students of astronomy were busily engaged Thursday evening watching the moon's appearance before, while, and after its eclipse state. SUPERIOR COURT. Decisions Reserved in Moore Divorce Case for Trial Thursday.

The trial of the contested divorce case of Catherine M. Mone vs. Philip Mone, both of Windham, occupied the attention of the full day's session of superior court Thursday with Judge Reed on the bench.

The plaintiffs grounds were habitually intemperance and intolerable cruelty and claimed that her husband owned real estate to the amount of $2,000 including personal property, and seeks alimony and the custody of two children, aged ten and five years, respectively.

The defendant had a cross complaint in which he denied the several charges and charged his wife with adultery, while she stoutly denies and seeks a decree from his wife and the custody of the children.

Mrs. Mone was represented by Attorney George W. Melony and Mr. Mone by Attorney Samuel E. Harvey.

A list of witnesses were examined and considerable testimony of quite a conflicting nature was brought out. When a recess was ordered until 1.30 o'clock Mone was on the stand and in the afternoon his cross examination was completed. Both attorneys completed their arguments and court took the case under advisement reserving his decision. Court was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning for a short calendar session.

WILLIMANTIC CAMP GROUND.

An Early Season Indicated—Thirty-five Cottages Opened on Memorial Day—Changes and Improvements.

The season of 1909 has begun early at the Camp Ground. Thirty-five cottages were opened for Memorial Day. These early comers noticed many improvements. The grounds have been set out by Supt. Jeffers and some of the roadways have been repaired. Delightful weather was enjoyed by these week end visitors.

As usual there has been much activity along the line of building improvements. Noticeable among them is the cottage of F. E. Barker on Prospect avenue. The veranda has been extended on the cottage of M. C. Grant of Wesley Circle, also at the Solter cottage of Foster avenue. Many cottages have been painted and shingled.

Have Changed Owners.

Four cottages have changed owners. The Parson cottage of Haven avenue has been purchased by Miss Nettie Devan. The Burchard cottage of Cartwright avenue has been bought by Supt. T. W. Riley of the Groton and Norwinton railway. Mrs. Hattie Brady has bought the cottage on Wesley Circle of Dr. E. F. Smith, and the Blackmar cottage on Simpson avenue has been bought by Miss Webber of Willimantic, who is making an addition to the place.

The demand for cottages is unusual for so early in the season. Several persons were on the grounds Memorial day looking for houses.

W. R. Hovey has had a cider road made in front of his cottage on Haven avenue.

Birds Noted Here and There.

To the bird lover the woods are now at their best. Many birds not seen before are here for the time. The woodpecker is heard. Supt. Jeffers knows where a humming bird is building a nest. A wood thrush and a linnet, the latter unusual, were seen on Monday.
